Pays Tribute To 2 Members Of Faculty

Dr. C. A. Hanson, president of Gettysburg College, today issued the following statements on the death of two members of the faculty:

"In the passing of Professor Herbert G. Hamme, Gettysburg College has lost one of its most respected teachers. Throughout his long association with this College he devoted himself unstintingly to his students and to his academic field. Having begun his services to the College in 1924 Professor Hamme established a continuity of performance as remarkable in its quality as it was in its span of years. Each of us will long remember his quiet dedication to learning and to the welfare of his College and his community."

"Mr. John H. Knickerbocker served Gettysburg College first as Librarian and more recently as Director of the Civil War Institute. His death removes from the company of this College one who was long known to students as well as to countless other persons who shared his interest in the Civil War. John Knickerbocker's gentleness, his devotion to those who shared his varied interests and his quiet dignity are elements of character which will be sorely missed."

FOUR MILLION BIRDS TALLIED IN YORK COUNTY

An estimated 4,019,470 birds were sighted Saturday by members of the York County Bird Club in the process of taking the annual bird census. Most of the sightings, members said, consisted of starlings, grackles and brown-headed cowbirds.

The annual census was taken by about 20 members of the club. and most of the birds were counted - or estimated - in the headwaters of the York Water Company's impounding dam.

James Stein Jr., president of the York County Bird Club, counted birds with the aid of binoculars near Accomac Saturday during the annual bird census.

Perkins, prefacing his expose of what he says is a myth with a "God Bless You" to hay fever sufferers, offers this explanation:

"Scientists long ago exploded the tale that goldenrod causes hay fever. It merely happens to be in conspicuous bloom at the same time the less spectacular ragweed is in flower. The latter produces about 90 per cent of the pollen that causes noses to twitch and eyes to itch. A few trees and certain grasses are the culprits in spring.

"Before a plant can cause humans discomfort three conditions must be present.

"The plant must be able to produce pollen that is light breathe, and toxic to susceptible human beings."

Ragwood, he contends, has an len grains - and only a few are needed to reduce the strongest of men to tears.

But the maligned rose, he says doesn't have that much pollen, what it has is not toxic and is too heavy and sticky to blush. Tests showed that Aurora, to handle. We go to the office ride the gentle wind.

FALL CUTTINGS

Early autumn is a favorable time to propagate cuttings of your favorite plants.

A system less tiring and messy than the one you may use now is to cut leafy stems from healthy plants, dip the ends in a hormone rooting powder. Then put a three-inch clay pot, with its drainage hole pot. Fill the larger pot with a rocting medium such as vermiculite or clean sand mixed with peat moss or spaghnum.

Set the cuttings in the planting medium, then fill the small pot with warm water to provide moisture for cuttings by seepage through the porous pot Triumph, Blizzard, large, tall, own as a mass market. I think

Some interesting thoughts about the future of photography were expressed recently in a radio interview. What cameras and what changes in film processing lie ahead?

The man gazing into the crystal ball was Wolf Wehran, a representative of the Camera Industries of West Germany. He had just returned from a threemonth, 10,000-mile tour of the United States conferring with photo dealers in every section of the country.

"With cameras getting smaller and smaller," Wehran said, 'the 35mm format is emerging as the professional size today and in the near future, while amateur photographers are likely to wind up with cameras in 16mm format.

What to do until an emergency happens

Emergencies have practically no sense of fair play. And almost always pick the worst possible time to happen.

People seem to prefer the day your insurance lapses to trip on your sidewalk, for example.

And the car usually waits until your bank account registers empty before demanding expensive repairs. There's no fighting it. But you can be ready. By tucking away some reserve funds in U.S. Savings Bonds. Bonds, themselves, are emergency proof. You can't lose the money you invest in them, even if fire, flood, robbers or plain carelessness causes you to lose the Bonds.

And when something expensive happens, you can just take them in to any bank and get yourself solvent again.

In the meantime, Uncle Sam uses your Bond dollars to handle other urgent matters, like taking care of your freedom.

Buy Bonds where you bank or on the Payroll Savings Plan where you you work. Get yourself really prepared and you might even discourage a few emergencies from ever happening.

Keep freedom in your future with

TONY CURTIS GIVEN "SOUR APPLE" AWARD

BY BOB THOMAS AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) - "Gee, you'd think they'd let me know about it." said Tony Curtis of his election as most uncooperative male star by the Hollywood Women's Press Club. "The first thing I knew of it was when I read the news in the paper."

Tony was dealt the club's Sour Apple award, along with Doris Day - most cooperative stars: Donna Reed, Lorne Greene. The Bronx lad's reaction was a mixture of surprise, bewilderment and faint amuse-

"The girls gave me the Golden Apple twice for most cooperative star." he reflected. "Now the Sour Apple. You gotta say this: I'm versatile."

"NOT EVERYTHING"

What happened to turn Tony from sweetheart of the press ladies to pin-up boy on their dart boards?

"When I first started in this business, I did everything they told me to," he said. "Look - it was great for me. I was a young punk who almost got arrested for loitering by hanging around on street corners in the Bronx. I didn't have the stuff to come through as an actor, so it was the best thing for me to have all that publicity exposure.

"I went to the beach and did layouts in my bathing suit, on yachts, with my dog. I was a big star - in the magazines.'

But publicity isn't everything -if it were, Jayne Mansfield and Zsa Zsa Gabor would be the biggest stars in Hollywood. Tony realized he'd have to produce on the screen, as well as in the gossip columns, and he devoted himself to that end.

MAGAZINES "NAUGHTY"

His film fortunes improved immensely and he became one of Hollywood's big-money stars. Still he played the publicity game - until his divorce from Janet Leigh.

"That's when some of the fan magazines started getting very naughty," Tony said. "They started printing stories that hurt Academy Purchases tion technical director. not only me but my daughters and my wife (Christine Kauf- Old Town Residence research project at the Univermann).
